Luxury destinations these days often resemble monster truck rallies more than country clubs. Bringing your irons out to the links doesn't necessitate knobby tires and two-ton towing capacity.

The all new Avanti Estate from Studebaker. With 70 cubic feet of cargo volume, you'll have plenty of space to load your shopping spree. The lower lift-gate means you won't need a step-ladder to boost up that armoire you found on your latest antiques excursion. And the sporty styling means you can leave the trucker cap at home.
